QUITE WILLINGLY WE agreed to assist the National Automobile Theft Bureau through its Anti Car Theft committee in the campaign to educate motorists to lock their cars and pocket their keys when leaving them.

We were contacted by phone by John G. Hallock of the bureau and we turned a sympathetic ear to his presentation.

You see, not only have we had our car stolen in the past, but we are extremely careless about locking our car.

Therefore, this campaign hit a responsive chord.

Our own, to be exact.

Seldom has any campaign touched an issue in which we have had such a personal interest.

Therefore, our help in the campaign could really get some tangible results.

We can start with ourself.

STATISTICS PERTAINING to car thefts are revealing, impressive and somewhat shocking.

There were, for example, 3,853 auto thefts in San Jose during 1970, which breaks down to about one theft every two hours of every day.

Proportionally this city seemed to be better off than San Jose in that respect, according to the Campbell police department's records. In 1970 there were 115 car thefts in Campbell, which works out to about one every four days.

According to the statewide reports, only about 80% of the stolen automobiles are ever recovered.

From a statistical point of view, we wonder how the "recovery" of our Volkswagon was recorded.

Our bug was stolen from the parking lot of West Valley College in Saratoga while we were attending a meeting of the college advisory board.

It was "recovered" a day or so later in the hills behind Monte Sereno.

However, the engine, rear wheels, seats and a number of other essential accessories were missing on the Volkswagon at the time of recovery.

We had not locked our car, although we had taken the precaution to remove the keys.

We should have learned by that experience that a locked car has a tendency to slow down a potential thief. But we still are not locking our car as regularly as we should.

Our point has been that there was seldom anything of value in our car. Therefore locking it seemed to be a waste of time.

That was, of course, before the clods swiped our car.

Now that we have agreed to cooperate in this anti-car theft campaign, we will try to remember to turn the key.

-0-

OBVIOUSLY A PROFESSIONAL thief can open a car and drive it off even if it is locked tight and the ignition key nowhere about.

But the non-professional usually can't. More than half the car thefts in the country, we understand, are accomplished by amateurs.

Quite often teenagers are just "borrowing" the cars for freewheeling joyrides.

But that is still stealing.

Incidentally, the National Automobile Theft Bureau reports that in cooperation with the law enforcement and city officials of San Francisco and Oakland, the anti-car theft campaign reduced the thefts in 1970 in both cities by 20% from 1969.

Inasmuch as the San Jose auto thefts were up 25% in 1970 from 1969 and in Campbell the percentage of increase was even greater (from 82 thefts in 1969 to 115 in 1970), the campaign seems to be worth a try.

Now where did we put those darn keys?

West Valley Colts battle for world championship in Indiana

by Dorothy Mitchell

The West Valley Colt All-Stars like to really work at it.

They lost their first game to Anaheim in National City last week, but came back to win two from that same team in a double-header on Sunday, Aug. 15 to win the Western Divisional Tournament 4-2 and 1-0 and move on to the world series.

This week at the Colt World Series in Lafayette, Indiana, was a different beginning.

On Wednesday, Aug. 18, West Valley met Puerto Rico and established a few new records.

In beating Puerto Rico 22-7 they broke the record for the most runs scored (22), the most hits (18), the most doubles (4), and tied three times the record for runs scored by a single player (3).

Jay Peryam (Del Mar), Dave DeLong (Camden), and George Hahn (Campbell) each scored three times. Rick Bauer (Los Gatos) hit a home run to tie the single-game homer mark.

On Friday, Aug. 20, the Piper played another tune for the team as they lost to Joliet, Ill. 1-0.

Ironically, it was the same way in which WV had beaten Anaheim in the 2nd game of their double-header---a triple followed by a single to drive in the only run.

Then on Sunday, Aug. 22

Colts bow

West Valley Colts on Monday in Lafayette, Ind., bowed to Hawaii by a score of 7-1 and thus bowed out of the Colt World Series contention.

The Colts were facing an uphill fight to stay in the race, for the local team would have had to win five in a row, after losing in the first game of the double-elimination tourney.

Hawaii scored five runs in the first inning to pretty much cinch the victory while West Valley scored only once in the fourth when Rick Bauer stole home.

West Valley only managed to collect two hits during the entire ball game.

Hawaii after getting five runs in the first, picked one more in the third and another in the fifth.

City sets tax rate at $2.02

Campbell's city tax rate will be $2.04 per $100 assessed valuation, a drop of two cents from last year, as a result of the City Council action on Monday night. The tax rate includes 13-cents for the Campbell Lighting District.

Before setting the tax rate, the Council adopted a budget of $3,773,755 and specified that a rate of $1.89 per $100 was needed to raise funds for the operation of departments and 13-cents for the Campbell Lighting District to raise $65,930.

The tax rate breaks down at $1.18 for operation; 12-cents for city hall furnishings; 59-cents for bond redemption and 13-cents for lighting.

Last year the city's budget was $4,333,020 and the tax rate was $2.04. The operation tax ($1.18) remains the same this year, but the city hall furnishings tax, that is scheduled to be in force for only two years, was dropped six-cents (from 18-cents to 12-cents) and the bond redemption was raised four cents (to 59-cents from 55-cents).

The final budget that was adopted last Monday exceeded the preliminary budget adopted in June (of $3,725,880) by $47,875 and included the additions of a number of items, plus the increase in reserves from an estimated (in June) $22,090 for June of 1972 to $75,000.

Final budget revenues for the fiscal year of 1970-71 exceeded the estimates by $99,655 which allowed the Council to include some previously eliminated items totalling

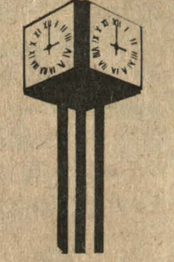
WELCOME TO THE PARISH---Father Leonard W. Bose, (left), pastor of St. Lucy's Catholic Church welcomes Father Felipe Borja, who has been temporarily assigned to assist in the parish. Father Borja, who has served as pastor of a number of churches in the Philippines, plans to observe modern parochial trends before returning to his homeland.

Father Borja attended the Diocesan Seminary in Viga, Ilocus Sur in Luzon and was ordained on March 29, 1941. Before coming to St. Lucy's he spent some time in the parish of Our Lady of Grace in Chicago.

Father Borja takes the place of Father John T. Brennan in the St. Lucy's parish. With the permission of the archbishop of the diocese, Father Brennan has taken an indefinite leave of absence from the active ministry.



Ticking ahead with the clock tower

During the past week, eight more contributions to the city hall clock tower fund totalled $121 which swelled the amount collected in the current appeal to $341, according to Len Edholm, Chamber of Commerce manager.

The drive for individual contributions to raise the balance of $1700 needed of the $5000 for the construction of the tower started two weeks ago.

A kiddies matinee and a premiere movie previously had raised $3000. The drive for individual contributions is the third phase of the money-raising campaign which is spearheaded by a citizens committee headed by Bob Tellesen.

The clock tower was in the original plans for the city hall but was eliminated by the City Council in the interest of economy. The CofC then embarked on the drive to raise the necessary funds.

The Council has directed that the clock tower be constructed, based on the assumption that citizen contributions will raise the necessary money.

The clock tower will be completed in time for the dedication of the city hall on Saturday, Sept. 25.

Under the direction of Mrs. Jeanette Watson, a committee is planning what materials and historical documents should be placed in the time capsule which will be put in place in the tower at the time of the dedication.

The objective of the Chamber of Commerce is to involve the citizens of the community in a special phase of the civic center complex that could be classified as their "very own".

Contributions to the clock tower fund should be sent to "Clock Tower", c/o CofC office, 100 W. Rincon Ave., or P. O. Box 85.

Those contributing to the fund during the past week included Dr. Bob King, First National Bank, Mrs. Edith Morley, Paulsen, Homes; Kilday Pest Control; Dr. Wallace Hall, Frank Weaver, Holly Vollenweider.

KEYS LOST

One of Campbell's senior citizens reports that she lost a large bunch of keys in downtown Campbell on Thursday, Aug. 19. If anyone found them, they are requested to call the Campbell Police Department, 378-8141.

AUGUST 25:

On this date in 1932, Amelia Earhart became the first woman to complete a transcontinental flight, flying from Los Angeles to New York.

THEN THERE WAS THIS ORCHARD, SEE

School board to award contracts totalling $112,000 on Thursday

Contracts for paving and roofing jobs in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District totalling approximately $112,000 are scheduled to be awarded by the trustees at the board meeting this Thursday, Aug. 26, in the administration office.

At the same meeting, the board is also expected to hear the latest developments in the "case of the missing orchard", pertaining to the removal of trees from a two-acre strip of property off Allendale Ave. in Saratoga which is owned by the district.

In a letter to the board this week, Hank Mestice has asked what it cost the district to remove the trees from the strip and what the cost will be to maintain the bare land in the future.

The county fire marshal's office, as a fire prevention measure, directed the school district, through the office of the business manager, to remove dry grass and weeds at the rear of the 10-acre orchard property on Allendale owned by the district and within the city limits of Saratoga.

The strip was cleared up to the creek of the dry grass and weeds and at the same time, all the fruit trees in the parcel fell victims to the bulldozer. (See photos below.)

Residents in the adjacent neighborhood on Riverdale, Aspesi and Fortuna, vigorously protested this "stripping" action on the part of the district. They compared the barren results to a dusty wasteland.

District officials subsequently submitted that it was an unfortunate incident and they have indicated that the district will take steps to improve the barren land in some manner.

WAGE CONTROL

At the board meeting Thursday, Jim D'Avis, acting superintendent, is expected to report on how the wage and price control directive could affect school district employees.

D'Avis said it is still uncertain as to whether the directive will allow the salary raises that have been granted the employees effective on July 1 to go into effect.

He explained that, although the raises were retroactive to July 1, they were not granted until August by the board. He said that, under the circumstances, the payroll on Aug. 31 will reflect the raises that have been granted.

However, the employees will be notified that, if it is determined that the raises can not go into effect, the money will be refunded from future paychecks.

PAVING JOBS

Bids for the paving and reroofing projects in the district will be accepted up to 5 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 26, and at 8 p.m. the bids will be opened and read at the public meeting.

The district has budgeted $52,588 for the paving bids and $60,000 for roofing.

Seven schools, Hamilton, Cypress, Campbell, Blackford, Lynhaven, Dover and Moorpark, will be reroofed under the program. The work must be completed by Sept. 30, 1971.

The paving, resurfacing, sealing and repairing of the "blacktop" is scheduled to be done at 13 schools in the district.

"BARREN WASTELAND"---That's how residents adjacent to the Campbell Union (elementary) School District property on Allendale in Saratoga described the two-acre "strip" that was created when the school district recently bulldozed out the trees.

That's Gordon Abbott sort of "stretching a point" between two survivors of the bulldozer blade. The school district had been directed to remove the weeds and dry grass as a fire prevention measure. But the trees went too.

ONE WAS MISSED---Gordon Abbott examines a scrubby fruit tree that was left after the Campbell Union (elementary) School District cleared a two-acre strip of a 10-acre orchard that the district owns off Allendale in Saratoga. The property was purchased some time ago as a potential school site, but the need for the school apparently no longer exists.

About the County Fair

The Santa Clara County Fair of 1971 is now a matter of history.

The 27th annual event is over and the fair officials are probably beginning to think already about the 28th annual event in August 1972.

The fair ran for 10 days and, we suppose, it will be said that it was highly successful.

Of course, there were those distasteful episodes after closing time on several nights that developed into riots or near-riots.

The fair management can in no way be held responsible for those incidents in which a mob of misguided youths embarked on a property-destroying activity that also endangered the lives of other citizens.

The riots or near-riots were unfortunate and, obviously, should not have occurred.

But the county fair should not be made a whipping boy on account of them and be forced to go out of existence for that reason.

The question, however, that bothers a great number of people is whether the Santa Clara County Fair, as it now exists, serves any essential need.

Some people argue that it represents an era that no longer exists and the time, money and efforts that are expended on the fair each year are just not worth it, as far as the bulk of the residents of this county are concerned.

They point out, for example, that agriculture, which was the prime reason that the county fairs were started originally, no longer dominates the county.

On the other hand, there are those who will argue just as strongly that the demise of agriculture in this particular county is an excellent reason to continue the fair so that the urbanized population will get a better understanding of the part that agriculture still plays in our life.

The Press is not an enthusiastic supporter of the county fair concept as it exists today in this county.

We question whether enough of the population is interested in the activity to warrant the time and money that is expended.

But we think it would be shameful, if the fair would be forced to go out of existence because of the malicious acts of a bunch of hoodlums.

We would oppose its closing down on that basis as a matter of principle.

It should rise or fall on its own merits.

The following editorial in the Los Gatos Times-Observer offered another aspect on the fair:

A QUESTION OF TASTE

There are many people, including us, we guess, that think the Santa Clara County Fair and its air of long-long agriculture is sort of an anachronism in these days--where county agriculture is in the toughest straits ever.

Ploughing in under whole fields of ripe strawberries in South County, pulling out almost every orchard left in the county, not because of production, but no one wants to buy the fruits.

And, the recent misfortunes of the almost-gang wars at the close of each evening during the few days that it has been open hasn't helped any.

But maybe there is something to be said for the fact that youngsters still get to see what a sheep and a real pig and a rooster look and smell like, and there is an air of bucolic gaity, even if simulated.

But we do object to the queens and hostesses being introduced on opening day by riding in the "bullet riddled car used in the filming of Bonnie and Clyde", a glorification of a couple of two-bit killers rampant during the early 1930's.

To memorialize something like this and identify the pretty fresh young girls of our county with this trash is just plain bad taste, to put it as mildly as possible.

Can't the public relations experts of the Fair come up with something better?

people riled up is to (1) criticize their kids, (2) condemn their pets or (3) remove their trees. Not necessarily in that order.

Basically, we suppose, it is because there is a certain amount of love and affection involved in each of the three areas.

There is also an inherent feeling of protectiveness probably in most of us that surfaces whenever someone takes after a defenseless child or animal. Trees, of course, are something special.

That came to mind recently when a two-acre parcel owned by the Campbell Union School District on Allendale Ave. in Saratoga was bulldozed by the district as a fire protective measure.

The bulldozer did quite a job of clearing the two acres.

In addition to the weeds, all the fruit trees on the property went under the blade.

RESIDENTS IN THE Saratoga area have been notorius in the past in their vocal opposition to any change in the ecological conditions of their community.

They like the semi-rural atmosphere that prevails and, by golly, they are going to keep it thataway.

We recall the Saratogan's reaction when a subdivision was planned on Pollard Road in the City of Campbell at the one spot where the city limits of Saratoga and Campbell meet.

Residents across the line in Saratoga attended in force every public hearing held on the matter by the Campbell Planning Commission and City Council.

They protested the removal of every tree. We recall that one huge oak tree was the main center of attention during the hearings.

The Saratoga people indicated with vigor that the tree should remain.

By the way, if you should visit that tract today, you will note that the street goes around that oak.

WHAT WE ARE LEADING up to, of course, is that the people of Saratoga are quite tree-conscious and they have been that way long before the word "ecology" gained such popular usage.

So that bulldozer, therefore, dug much deeper than the school district business manager, C. E. Bradley and staff anticipated.

There were trees involved.

Apparently no development is planned for the two-acres. It will just lie barren.

The lack of foresight on the part of the district business manager as to what the reaction of the public would be in such a case is almost as surprising as the apparent lack of good judgment in the first place in undertaking any indiscriminate tree-removal project.

One just doesn't go around taking out trees without a good reason.

And sometimes a "good reason" even is not enough.

THIS ANTI-TREE REmoval sentiment is by no means confined to the people of Saratoga.

Some of you undoubtedly recall the hassle that extended over a period of years over the removal of Campbell's "Roosevelt Redwood" at Winchester and Campbell Ave. And the Garden Club has requested that a Sequoia tree on the West Valley College campus be protected by official city action.

There have been other instances in this community when residential ire was aroused just over the threat that a tree was to be taken out.

In fact a resident in Campbell must get official city permission to remove a tree from the parkway in front of his house when the roots are buckling the sidewalk.

And, in most cases, a city-approved tree must be planted in its place.

And the city has its own modest tree-planting program that to date has placed trees in the business district on Campbell and Bascom Aves. and on Winchester.

The official city seal includes a tree in the background. The masthead of this newspaper depicts the two stately walnut trees at Campbell and Harrison as a landmark of the city.

So it can be said that Campbell is also tree-conscious in a pretty big way.

The roots go pretty deep.

"SPEAKING OF THE AIR-POLLUTION PROBLEM..."

Applicant withdraws appeal before Council has to act

An appeal of a Planning Commission decision that was before the City Council on Monday night was withdrawn by the applicant, Wilburdon Construction Co., before the Council had to take official action on it. Revised plans will be presented to the Planning Commission.

The Planning Commission had denied approval of the revised plans for a building at 645 McGlincey Lane because the almost-completed building had more office space than had been approved originally which affected the parking space ratio requirement.

The construction firm was represented before the City Council by Al Ruffo, San Jose attorney. During the discussion, prior to the withdrawal of the appeal, it was pointed out that the applicant had signed a statement specifying that there would be no changes in the original plans without Commission approval.

It was indicated that the firm would modify the building plans when it went before the Commission again.

In another matter on Monday night, the City Council took no action on the request of the Campbell Garden Club that a Giant Sequoia on the West Valley College be declared an official landmark.

However, the Council indicated that the city should have an ordinance on tree preservation as had been suggested by the Parks and Recreation Commission.

The Council also voted to meet on Tuesday, Sept. 21 instead of the regular meeting of Monday, Sept. 27, as the councilmen will be in attendance at the annual League of California Cities then.

The Planning Commission and the City Council will meet in a joint study session next Monday, Aug. 30, in the conference room in the city hall. Next Monday is an "off night" for the two bodies. The Commission meets the first and third Mondays and the Council on the second and fourth.

County to hire 40 under public employment plan

County government has been given an okay from the U.S. Department of Labor to hire 40 unemployed or underemployed persons by Aug. 30 under the 1971 Emergency Employment Act.

Federal officials are calling the program PEP or Public Employment Program.

The telephoned approval from the Labor Department means that the County will be the first agency in this area to put people to work under the new federal job program.

The initial allocation is for $150,390 out of a $1,318,200 grant. The full allocation is expected to provide work for another 120 persons in County departments and the smaller cities of the area.

San Jose, Santa Clara and Sunnyvale, because each has over 75,000 residents, expect to be approved by the federal government to operate their own programs.

The 40 jobs will be filled from lists of eligible persons already certified by the State Human Resources Agency, according to Assistant County Executive Newton Holcomb.

He explained that the County is proceeding with arrangements to put people on the payroll as quickly as possible after the Aug. 30 start-up date.

All the jobs will be unclassified positions. This means they will not carrv civil service or "merit system"

WV met the host team, Lafayette, and won 6-1.

This was not an easy game because WV went into the sixth inning hitless and one run behind.

In the bottom of the sixth, six runs were scored on six hits.

Jeff Mason (Campbell) and Ron Wright (Blackford) each hit a triple. Rick Bauer was the winning pitcher.

It will take "only four more wins", according to Manager Wayne Mitchell. Mitchell, a junior high school teacher at Monroe Elementary School, was very pleased to receive a good-luck telegram from the Campbell Union (elementary) School District before Sunday's game.

The finals of the World Series will be played this evening, Wednesday, Aug. 25, in Lafayette.

$47,875.

The Council followed the recommendation of City Manager Bob Stephens for the budget and tax rate, plus adding $575 to the Parks and Recreation Commission budget. Of this amount $75 will be allocated for the P&R chairman for conferences and $500 to help pay for the directory that the commission is publishing.

By a 3-2 vote, however, Monday night the Council refused the request of Bill Wren, public works director, approved by Stephens and Jeff Whittaker, finance director, to use $6,555 that had been "found" in the general fund for capital outlay items for the public works department.

Stephens explained that the $6,555 savings resulted from correcting duplicating accounts and reducing or eliminating allocations approved in the preliminary budget. Stephens said that the proposed outlay would not adversely affect the general fund surplus or the proposed property tax.

He added that the $6,360 capital outlay items were critically needed in the public works department.

These items would include a walkie-talkie radio ($350); electronic calculator ($3700); engine-driven welder with trailer ($1,550); self-propelled edge roller ($2,600) and knapsack power blower ($160).

Mayor Ralph Doetsch, and Councilman Bill Smeed and Ed Rogers voted against the proposal with Councilmen Dean Chamberlin and Bill Podgorsek favoring it.

Wren was directed, however, to return to the Council with his requests whenever he felt the need was essential.

ROTARY SPEAKER---Frank Armbruster, local toy manufacturer, was featured speaker at Campbell Rotary Club's meeting on Monday. Armbruster has created quite an adult following with his speaking engagements, which usually include a lot of "give-aways" of his toys -- such as Instant Insanity, Deelie Bobbers, and Bali Buttons. Armbruster will also participate in a conference of San Mateo County schools September 1 on the subject of creativity. DARTING AROUND with Tom Carroll

Some very interesting information has been passed on from our spies in Oakland. It seems that there is this pub on Grand Ave., The Kaleidoscope, whose sign out front proclaims "Beer & Darts." Now this doesn't make the establishment unique. The kicker is the line that appears above the Beer and Darts. "TOPLESS TODAY". I can just see some of our dart players impaling their hand to the dart board as they try to watch the floor show. Worse, still, they might be so shook that they aim for the dancer.

NEW PUBS

With dart season drawing near, new pubs are still cropping up. The latest is on Campbell near western boundary. John Koltoniak is setting a board in his Pride of London, Fish and Chips store at 1080 Saratoga Ave. John is no new comer to the Campbell area, as several years ago he had the Jack in the Box on Bascom. John is also looking for some dart players to form a team for the Fall season of the NCDA.

Also Gary Orechwa, who has been running the Steppenwolf in Berkeley, is getting ready to open a new pub on College Ave. in Oakland sometime this Fall.

SATURDAY TOURNAMENT

The Lancashire Lad's Saturday night tournament has been drawing crowds all summer when the other weekly tournaments in the area have died.

The last couple of weeks have seen better than twenty players for each tournament. One weekend saw eight players come down from the Primrose Lanes in Burlingame. Another weekend NCDA Treasurer Russ Carleton and his wife, Alice made the trip from Pleasant Hill.

Phil Albers, who is switching from the Dutch Goose team in Menlo Park to Scarlett LaRue's in Los Gatos, picked up his second trophy recently.

The Ladies Special Dart Tourney was won by a lass from Belfast, Ireland. Ina (I don't know her last name) had to beat Jane Macredes in the last round to take the match. Ina is just visiting this country and came down to the tournament with the group from the Primrose Lanes.

NEW SEASON

The entry forms for the fall season of the Northern California Darts Assn. should be in the hands of the sponsoring pubs and the team captains. Sign up now as the entries must be returned by Sept. 10. From all reports I would guess that we should pass the 80 team mark this fall.

Letters to the Editor

VANGUARD

Dear Sir:

I am a little disturbed at the Campbell Press as I feel that you are depriving the City of Campbell of the knowledge that they are represented by a National Champion. I have sent several stories in to the Press in the past few weeks concerning the Santa Clara Vanguard Drum and Bugle Corps and when I called to inquire why they were never published, I was told that there has not been room to date and that if future stories were to be accepted they must contain the names of the individuals who lived in Campbell who were members of the group. This disturbs me a great deal and for that reason I did not submit a story.

On August 18, the Vanguard Drum and Bugle Corps won the VFW National Championship in Drum and Bugle Corps Competition in the Cotton Bowl, Dallas, Texas. They were in competition with all the top Corps in the United States and when the decision was made as to the best in the Nation, the flag of the Lt. Byron C. Lampshear Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6305, Campbell, Calif. was the one which was raised in success as the coveted "Silver Drum" award was made.

Nobody asked at that time whether the drummer who carried the base drum with name of the post on it was from Campbell or asked any of the 105 boys and girls from all over the Santa Clara Valley who earned this award through countless hours of practice which were from Campbell.

This group traveled around 10,000 miles this summer winning the 12 first places including the North American Championship in Toronto, Canada, eight second places including the World Open Championship in Boston, Mass. and the Mid-American Open Championship in Kansas, never placing lower than third in any competition they entered. In all this fine representation across the U.S., they carried the name of Campbell in honor. Since this group looks like "Precision in Motion" when they perform I do not feel that individual members should be singled out for mention merely because of their place of residence. We should say, thank you Santa Clara Vanguard, from the citizens of Campbell!

Sincerely,
Mrs. Frank Coker

Animal breeder classes offered

Two classes specifically related to animal husbandry will be offered by the Metropolitan Adult Education Program this fall.

Dr. Philip Haims, DVM, will teach "Veterinary Science" on Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m. at Branham High School, 1570 Branham Lane, San Jose.

Bud Beckley will teach "Genetics for the Animal Breeder" on Wednesday evenings at Oak Grove High School, 285 Blossom Hill Rd., San Jose.

Dr. Haims has taught genetics in college and adult education and is presently the county veterinarian.

Beckley, former instructor for the University of California at Davis, has done extensive research in genetics, including dwarfism in cattle. In Australia he did research on dairy cows.

Those interested may preregister on the nights the classes are scheduled at Branham High School and Oak Grove High School beginning August 30.

Adult education offers classes; publishes book of recent success stories

Metropolitan Adult Education Program, which serves five high school districts, recently published "1001 Voices for Adult Education," a book of quotes and pictures from students who have attended adult classes.

The book was the work of department heads, teachers and students of adult education in response to a request by Leland Clark, MAEP director.

More than 6000 stories of persons who had benefited from adult education had to be edited and catagorized by Mrs. Hilda Beck, English skills department head and Mrs. Louise Bauquier, social studies department head.

Photography classes in the program contributed pictures to illustrate many of the "Success stories" which the book printed.

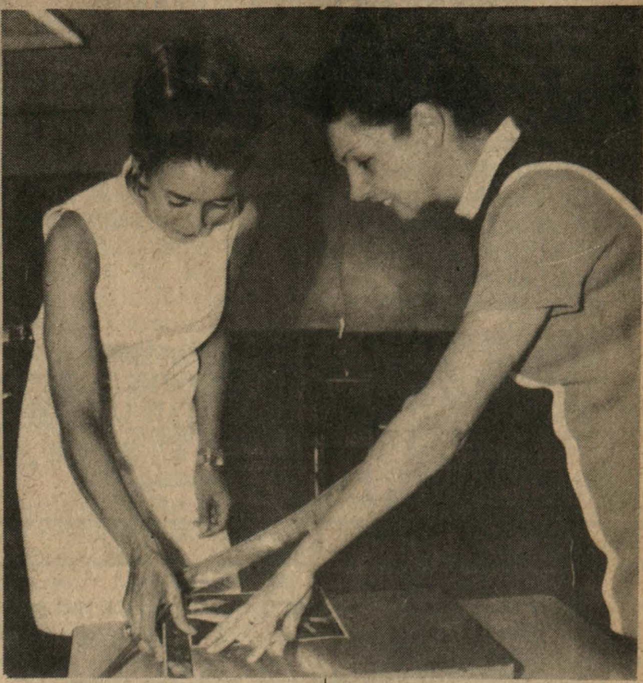
The book is designed to be a means of communication with legislators, school boards and other adult education programs throughout the state.

Many of the stories are from people who had suffered educational handicaps in their youth and from others who had language problems, health problems and the like.

Currently, the classes are gearing up for their fall opening. Registration for classes will open on Monday, August 30.

Classes in the Campbell area will be held at Bohnett School, Campbell High School, Congregational Church, Westgate Convalescent Home, Country Lane School, Camden High School, Del Mar High SChool, Good Samaritan Hospital, Prospect High School, Trinity Presbyterian Church, Westmont High School and West Valley Senior Center.

Registration fee is $1.75, excepting senior citizens over 65 years of age.



PREPARING VOICES---Adult education department heads Mrs. Hilda Beck, left, and Mrs. Louise Bauquier, right, prepared a book for Metropolitan Adult Education Program this summer entitled "1001 Voices for Adult Education", a compilation of "success stories" of adult education students. Registration for fall classes for adults begins Monday, August 30.

MR. and MRS. CLINT MILLER, SR.

Millers honored

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Miller, Sr., of Campbell, honored them recently at a champagne dinner party at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Winter.

The party marked the occasion of the Miller's 35th wedding anniversary.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clint Miller, Jr., of Watsonville; Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Evans of San Jose; and Mr. and Mrs. Lester D. Hall, parents of Mrs. Clint Miller, Sr., who recently celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary.

Also joining the celebration were the Miller's nine grandchildren.

A specially decorated cake was provided for the honorees, who formerly operated the post office branch at San Tomas Center.

The Millers were married in Reno, Nevada, and now make their home at 1320 Westmont. Miller is a custodian in the Moreland School District.

Fifty Golden Years

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Keesling of Ridgeley Avenue celebrated 50 years of marriage recently with a dinner at Vahl's in Alviso.

The Keeslings were married in Oakland, California and moved to Campbell in 1933.

Keesling retired from construction work at Moffett Field in 1961.

Mrs. Keesling is a native of Indiana, where she taught school.

Dinner guests included Mr. and Mrs. Al Taylor, their son-in-law and daughter; Patricia Keesling, granddaughter, and Mrs. Neva Mauzy, Mrs. Keesling's sister.

Following the dinner a reception and dessert was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keesling, son and daughter-in-law. Unable to attend were Scott Keesling, grandson, who was on a Foreign League tour in Europe and Russell Keesling of Campbell, a brother.

The Keeslings are active members of the United Methodist Church of Campbell.

Baptists host Murk family musicale Sunday

The Murk Family, a talented group of musicians, will present a musicale at 9:45 and 11 a.m. on Sunday, August 29, at the Saratoga Avenue Baptist Church.

The Murk family, from Wheaton, Ill., is touring the West Coast, presenting the Gospel in song in various churches and camps.

The Murks are a talented musical family. Jim and Donna (father and mother) and their five children all sing and play the piano. Beverly, 17; Billy, 16; Becky, 14; Brenda, 13, and Barby, 11, also have become proficient on stringed instruments.

Since 1963, when dad (who has been a college professor), won the national championship of the Ted Mack Original Amateur Hour as a lyric tenor, the family has performed in more than 40 states and Canada.

Besides having concerts in Bible conferences and many churches, they have performed for business organizations, service groups, conventions, women's clubs, and special events.

The Camden High graduate attended University of Santa Cruz for three years before joining the Peace Corps in May.

Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Zetterberg, of Claremont, California, and graduated from University of California at Santa Cruz, joining the Peace Corps in November.

The wedding ceremony and reception were held in the gardens of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Dudley, assistant director of the Peace Corps in Nicaragua.

The bride's dress was sewn by her mother, who was not able to attend the ceremony. Mrs. Stephen Zetterberg, mother of the groom, was in attendance.

America the Beautiful?

Or Ugly Pollution? The Choice Is Ours . . .

Will "the purple mountain's majesty" and other American beauties give way to the ugliness of mountains of trash, and the blot of pollution on earth, air and water?

Keeping America beautiful is a job that belongs to each of us—a job we should be proud to do, and a job we must do, for our future and our children's future.

Don't pass the buck to somebody else—act now! How can you help? By keeping things clean! Stop litter . . . dispose of trash properly . . . clean up home, property and car.

Let's get together . . . to stop pollution.

Tia Maria has gala opening

"Fiesta de la Luna" set the theme for the benefit dinner sponsored by the San Jose Junior League at Tia Maria restaurant's grand opening in Campbell Thursday night.

More than 400 guests from the League and Tia Maria attended the party, with all proceeds going to the League's many community projects.

Chairman for the fiesta evening was Sue Edson.

Circulating in the crowd were Tia Maria founders George Martinez and Warren Simmons, proudly pinning "Help Stamp Out Gringo Food" buttons on lapels and jackets. This is the sixth Tia Maria they have opened in the Bay Area since they entered the restaurant business in Oakland in late 1968.

The evening began with a greeting by the League's Jim and Sue Baker of Campbell, Almaden's Patti (Mrs. Donald) Yankovich, Linda (Mrs. Robert) Caldwell and a Tia Maria hostess who presented each of the ladies with an orchid.

They welcomed early arrivals Mayor Ralph Doetsch of Campbell and City Manager Bob Stephens and their wives, who were among the first to dine next to the tall stone fountain in the patio dining room.

The highlight of the evening came with a bang when League president Marilyn Richardson, blindfolded and weilding a crepe paper festooned stick, wacked away at a pinata dangling over the Cantina dance floor.

Executives lead March of Dimes

Four business executives representing various areas of the county will serve as volunteer vice-chairmen for the 1972 March of Dimes against birth defects in Santa Clara County, as the result of appointments announced today by Douglas Duckham of Saratoga, chairman.

Chisholm, a vice-president of Mutual of New York; and Jack Montgomery of Stanford Life Insurance Consultants. The latter two have offices in Palo Alto.

The team lead by these men will be raising funds to support the year-round program of The National Foundation, national voluntary health agency working in the field of birth defects---a task taken on when poliomyelitis was conquered with development of Salk and Sabin vaccines. The National Foundation-March of Dimes was originally founded to battle polio.

College awards bid for new humanities-fine arts complex

West Valley College trustees have awarded the bid for construction of the humanities-fine arts complex on the Saratoga campus to Dickman Construction Inc. of Mountain View, at a total cost of $1.8 million.

Construction on the project should begin sometime this fall and completion for the building is set for the spring semester of 1973.

Thursday night the board also approved the filing of a notice of completion for the campus center building on the Saratoga campus. The center will open to students in September.

D. Tomacci & Son Construction Co. built the building and Tomacci was at the board meeting to bid "farewell" to the construction business. He told board members the campus center was his "farewell" job, after completing nearly 80 school jobs during his career.

Tomacci stated "my first job was a $6,000 remodeling job for a school and this was my last job. I'm very proud the campus center was my final project." Tomacci's son will take over the company.

In other action Thursday night the board:

Approved parking regulations for the college, which are nearly identical to last year's regulations. However, the board did approve two full-time and two part-time positions for parking, security and traffic enforcement. This fall, these security officers will have full authority to issue citations on college property to those who are in violation of the parking regulations.

Approved lease agreements between the college and various community facilities (golf courses, bowling alleys, stadiums, firing range and hospitals) for instructional purposes for the 1971-72 school year.

Approved an agreement with the State Department of Real Estate for continued state financial assistance to the college's real estate program in an amount not to exceed $1000 for the 1971-72 school year.

Approved the creation of a classified position entitled supervisor of facilities planning and construction; and approved job descriptions and salary ranges for four new classified positions already in the budget.

Hired two additional teachers for the coming school year. Leslie Forte will teach English during the fall semester and Richard Mielbrecht will teach astronomy all year.

Promoted Nanette Halterman from typist clerk to student records clerk.

tenure. However, all jobs will be paid at the prevailing wage rates and the new employees will receive fringe benefits similar to regular employees, Holcomb explained.

Most of the 40 new workers will be in the category of "public service aides" or beginning level employees in various departments.

The 40 new employees will be assigned as follows: five each to expressway landscaping, park maintenance, public health clinics, animal control, and adult probation; three as juvenile probation aides, two janitors, two clerks and one community relations worker in the Sheriff's Office, one payroll clerk for the School Department, and one aide and one clerk for the Public Defender's Office.

The County also from project funds will hire an administrative assistant III, a vocational counselor, a stenographer-clerk and a senior account clerk to manage the full project of $1,318,200 and its funds.

Holcomb said the County is proceeding in cooperation with the smaller cities to plan for the full program in expectation of an early federal approval to start hiring the remaining 120 workers.

Applicants for these jobs will be drawn from a variety of sources, according to Holcomb. These include the Department of Human Resources Development, the County Social Services Department's Vocational Services Division and various manpower training programs in the area.

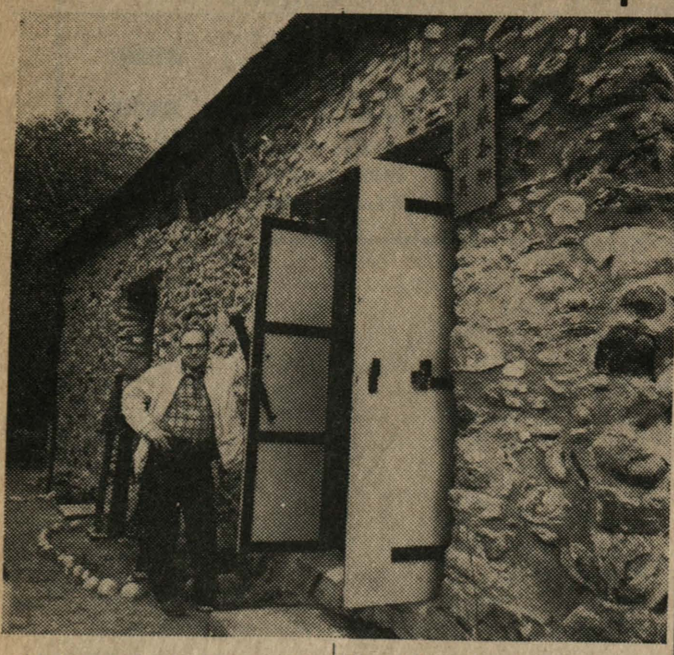
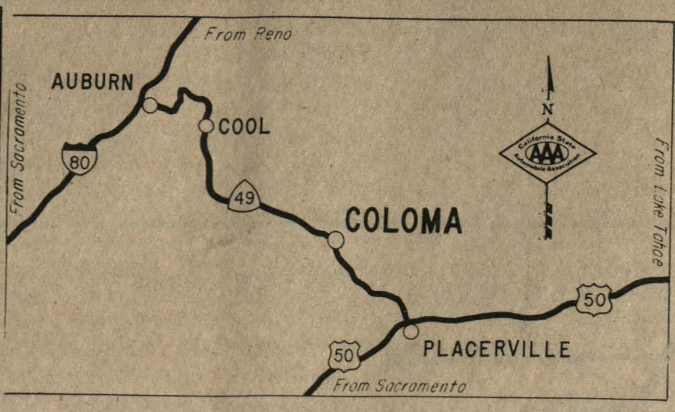
Drive on "49" to Colma provides link with past



VISITOR--Jack Wagner, Author of "Gold Mines of California", visits the old Chinese store in Coloma.



It's easy to drive back along the trails of history in California. One authentic slice of the state's most colorful past is as near as a drive along Highway 49 to Coloma, says the California State Automobile Association.

This is the spot where the discovery of gold by James Marshall in 1848 sparked the rush that brought people from around the world. Coloma has some of the best remnants of the fabulous gold rush period of the Mother Lode and they have been restored and collected by the state of California and preserved in this historic park.

A good place to begin exploring this famous landmark is the spot where Marshall first discovered the precious metal while inspecting the work being done on the sawmill of John Sutter. The exact spot is on the bank of the south fork of the American River. Nearby towers a statue of Marshall pointing to the spot.

After Marshall told Sutter of his find, it took several months for the word to leak out, then by the spring of 1849 the big rush was on. Almost 200,000 frenzied gold-seekers converged on this region in the months that followed. Many came from as far away as Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. Still others came from Europe and the far East as the word spread around the world.

Near the Marshall monument is a replica of the sawmill which was completed in 1968. It is a working sawmill complete with a waterwheel so you can see just how the first mill operated.

There are a number of the original buildings still standing including a stone stove used by the Chinese, the Episcopal Church, the cabin where Marshall lived for two years, the Bekeart store and several others.

The state-operated museum has some of the mining equipment used and interpretive displays showing the history of the gold mining activity at Coloma. Near the museum is a replica of the stamp mill and hydraulic equipment used in the mining operation.

Even today, over a century after it became famous, Coloma is a rich discovery for those who visit it.

New Books BOOKS at Campbell Library

WHERE HAVE ALL THE FLOWERS, FISHES, BIRDS, TREES, WATER, AND AIR GONE; by Osborn Segerberg, Jr. 301.31 (Non-Fiction)

"Ecology says that man is not king despite his illusions. He must give up the imagined scepter." Continued disregard of certain ecological rules will probably not bring extinction to the species. No one can afford to be uninformed. This book is a complete and detailed explanation of the ecological crisis of our times -- its roots and possible consequences. Concise, vivid, and readable, fact-filled and well-documented, this book is written expressly for the layman.

KEEPING YOUR FAMILY HEALTHY OVERSEAS, by James P. Carter 613.68 (non-fiction)

Millions of American families take their children overseas each year. Many of them will run into problems of nutrition, disease, and cultural adjustment. This useful and long-needed handbook covers all aspects of child and family health away from the United States. Part I deals with planning for the trip, medical preparations, the medical kit, traveling with children. Part II discusses general problems of family health overseas; living in developing countries, cultural adjustment, mental health, sanitation, household help, nutrition, schools, pets. Part II deals with medical problems of families. Part IV treats pregnancy, childbirth, and infant care overseas.

SUNSET GUIDE TO ORGANIC GARDENING, by Sunset 635

A listing of the table of contents is probably best for this book: What is Organic Gardening; Improving Your Soil with Organic Matter. Plant Nutrition - Using Organic Fertilizers. Digging, Planting, and Mulching. Making Compost...the How and Why. How to foil plant eaters and plant spoilers. How to grow Vegetables. How to Grow Fruits and Berries. How to Grow Herbs. How to Grow Ornamental Plants. How to Grow Lawns. It is an excellent book from Sunset.

A SPECIAL RAGE, by Gilbert Moore, 323.2097 (Non-Fiction)

This moving book records the agony of a thoughtful black man who understands and feels the causes of black rage; a man who is not able to accept or be accepted by the Black Panthers, but who knows them. Raised in Harlem and the British West Indies, Gilbert Moore worked his way through college and joined Life as a reporter -- a member of the privileged minority within an underprivileged minority by virtue of his education, ability and profession. But then he went to Oakland to cover the trial of Huey Newton, met the Black Panthers, and nothing has been the same for him since. This book is an engrossing account of that complex and emotional murder trial, but even more it is the story of Gilbert Moore's uneasy encounter with his history and his destiny.

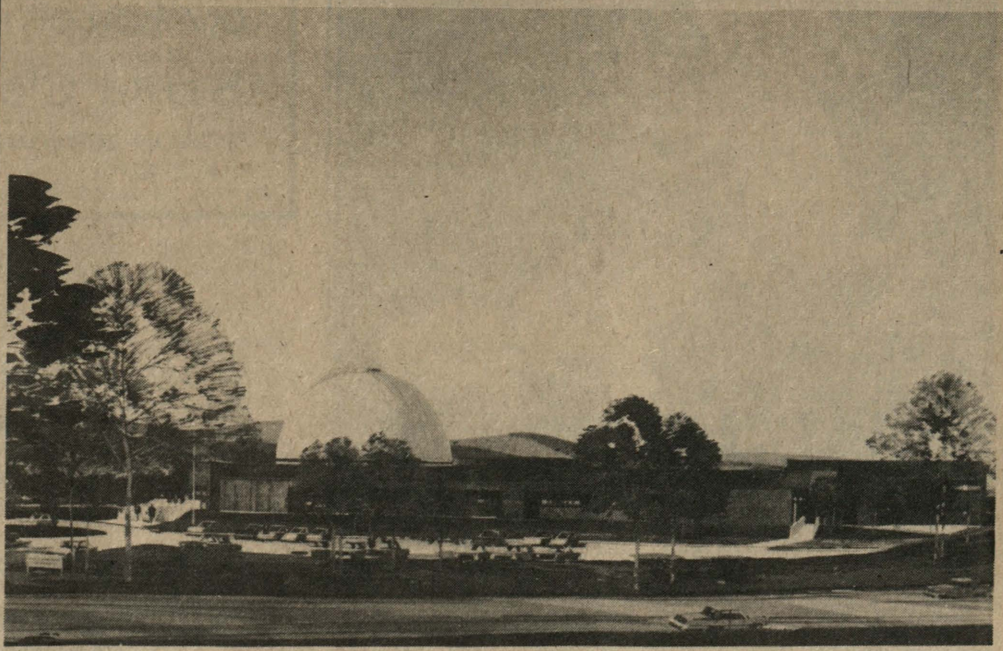
QB VII, by Leon Uris (Fiction)

Queen's Bench Courtroom Number Seven in the tradition-rich London Law Court is the stage for the most unusual and electrifying legal battle in British history. England's most eminent barrister looked directly into the faces of the jury, "There comes a moment in the human experience when one's life itself no longer makes sense when it is directed to the mutilation and murder of his fellow man." Libel was the cause. A knighted doctor against a best selling American author who had defamed him in his novel. Written in white heat, it surges to a climax as the witness stand erupts with a gamut of characters representing a multitude of cultures in conflict.

UNFIT FOR HUMAN CONSUMPTION, by Ruth Harmer 632.9 (Non-Fiction)

With rare courage and a veritable arsenal of carefully researched facts, Ruth Harmer charges the industrial, scientific, regulatory, political, and academic establishments with gross neglect of human health and welfare. She all but staggers the reader with the over-whelming evidence of poisons in food and environment in her opening chapter. She proceeds through subsequent chapters to present story after story of how individuals, families, and groups have been affected by wanton dissemination of pesticides in the environment. The last half of her book is devoted to remedies and non-polluting substitute methods of pest control for the lethally dangerous ones now so widely permitted.

Work to begin soon on new PG&E research center



NEW KNOWLEDGE---Pacific Gas and Electric Company plans to build this research laboratory at San Ramon in Alameda County to house its staff of 75 specialists engaged in a broad field of utility-related and environmental investigation. The dome-shaped building will house extra high voltage test facilities capable of voltages as high as 1,050,000 volts. Bids on the structures have been called.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company has requested bids and expects that work will start in September on the building of a new research center in San Ramon. The center is expected to be in operation late in 1972, according to Barton W. Shackelford, vice-president-planning and research.

The center will serve as headquarters for a staff of 75 men and women. It will replace the company's Emeryville research facility used by the department since 1926.

The 15-acre San Ramon site adjoins Crow Canyon Road east of Highway 680. The center will include a research laboratory and administration building with 45,000 square feet of floor space. High voltage test facilities, including a fog chamber and control building, will be constructed, capable of tests at voltages as high as $1,050,000 volts.

The research department now has in progress about 150 projects in such fields as aquatic environment, corrosion control, extra high voltage transmission, radiation measurement, and materials testing.

The staff includes scientists and specialists from the fields of biology, oceanography, geology, physics, chemistry, and metallurgy in addition to the major engineering disciplines.

PG&E has been studying the aquatic environment at its thermal power plant sites intensively since 1951. Its research on the effect of warm water discharges on marine life has been among the pioneering work in this field in the nation.
